E. Certification Events

Certification events may be scheduled for one or two days. A point system will be used to determine how many days the event will run. A GSDCA-WDA certification will only allow a teaching helper to teach and evaluate a total of twelve points in one day. The number of Helper applicants that total more than twelve in the assigned point system will require that the seminar/certification will be a total of two days. If two teaching helpers are conducting the seminar then the twelve point cap is removed. If a seminar/certification is scheduled for one day and more applicants show up and exceed the point total for a one day event the event will automatically become a two day event: A. Club level helper three points; B. Regional level helper two points; C. National level helper one point.

Certification events shall include a presentation of the fundamentals of protection work with emphasis on trial procedure and practical implementation followed by the evaluation of the applicant Helpers.

The Club Trial Helper must work several dogs, no more than four (4), at different trial levels. At least one (1) dog must be working at the highest level. A Regional or National Trial Helper aspirant who is attending a certification event for the first time shall work several dogs, but no more than eight (8) at different trial levels; at least four (4) dogs shall be working at the highest level.

The applicant Helper should show good physical conditioning and coordination sufficient to carry out a Helper's task in an assertive, fair, equitable, consistent and safe fashion for all dogs in a trial. The "Stand still" phase must be performed in such a way that the handler can see the dog on the sleeve. The Club Trial Helper's physical condition has to be good enough to work five (5) dogs in a row and the National Trial Helper thirty (30) dogs in a day according to regulations in the rulebook. The protection phase in a Working Dog trial is a contest between Helper and dog. The National Trial Helper has to be able to put real psychological and physical pressure on the dogs.

If at all possible all Helpers should be videotaped. After the test their work will be discussed while watching the videotape.

A Helper who is attending for re-evaluation must pass an endurance test (by running several laps about the field in full Helper gear) and work up to three (3) dogs, which should be at the highest working level. When questioned about rule changes, the Helper must be able to recite all applicable changes to the evaluator.

Note: The applicants will be required to provide his/her own protection equipment. If the applicant fails to have the requisite equipment, the examiner may excuse the applicant.

F. Maintaining Certification

- 1) GSDCA-WDA Club Trial Helper certification is valid for two years. The Helper should do helper work at a GSDCA-WDA, DVG, USCA or GSSCC sanctioned trial at least once every two (2) years and if the officiating licensed judge at the trial approves of the work and marks this in the GSDCA-WDA Trial Helper Book, the Helper's certification will be extended for another two (2) years. The officiating licensed judge, if possible and if time allows, may also re-evaluate other Helpers and if the officiating licensed judge approves, their certifications will be extended for another two years. Such certification must immediately follow the sanctioned trial and must be publicly announced during the trial.
- 2) GSDCA-WDA Regional Trial Helper certification is valid for a period of two (2) years. The Helper must re-certify on or before his/her anniversary date either by attending a certification event or by working a GSDCA-WDA Club or Regional trial. If the officiating judge at the trial approves of the work, his certification will be renewed for two (2) years from that date.
- 3) GSDCA-WDA National Trial Helper certification is valid for a period of four (4) years. The Helper must re-certify on or before his/her anniversary date either by attending a certification event or by working a GSDCA-WDA National trial. If the officiating judge at the trial approves of the work, his certification will be renewed for four years from that date.
- 4) Teaching Helper certification is valid for a period of four (4) years. Recommendation for reappointment may be made by the Helper Committee and shall require GSDCA-WDA Board approval.
- 5) Certified Helpers are responsible for reviewing all information published about rule changes as they occur. Certification may be revoked if the Helper is not aware of current rules. All Helpers are encouraged to attend various seminars, whenever possible, for their own continuing educational improvement. It is the responsibility of the Certified Helper to provide the GSDCA-WDA Office with proof of re-evaluation. Upon receipt of a copy of the Trial Helper Book page completed and signed by the officiating judge, certification will be extended two (2) years.

- 6) Certification status will automatically expire if the Helper's membership in the GSDCA-WDA is cancelled for any reason. Any Helper whose membership expires must go through the certification program again after reactivating their membership.
